

Participatory Study Guides

Designed for individual or small group studies, the lessons are ideal for Sunday School classes or small study/prayer groups. The guides are based on the participatory method developed by the author to help people learn to understand the Bible better.

To the Hebrews (144 pages)

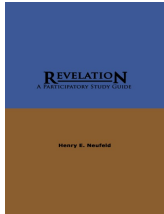

Basic lessons with graded additional study allow you to choose the time spent on your study.

With references to study Bibles and standard reference materials as well as a study of Old Testament quotations, a glossary of terms used in Hebrews, background references, study questions and topics for discussion, and translation and notes for reference makes this Bible study guide an excellent tool for personal or small group study.

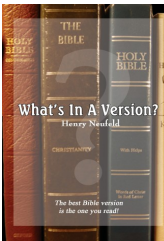

Revelation (152 pages)

This study also includes many references and a glossary of terms but adds an examination of different approaches to Revelation. There is an emphasis on spiritual application—even if your group has problems agreeing on prophetic interpretations, you can share many spiritual lessons. “This study of Revelation is new and fresh! I came to class eager to see with a different perspective what God has wanted to tell me for today from a book that has been often puzzling and interpreted only for the future.” -- a student

What's in a Version? (124 pages)

This book strives to provide a basis for lay students to understand how translations are produced. Mr. Neufeld writes about the

“Come away with me to a quiet place and find some rest.” – Mark 6:31

Bible translations from his knowledge about Biblical languages and his experience of teaching them in classes and conferences and on the internet. He shows us information about the various versions so we can choose a Bible version with confidence for our reading and study.

Who's Afraid of the Old Testament God?

Dr. Alden Thompson (136 pages)
An honest look at the difficult pages in the Old Testament and how they can strengthen our faith and understanding of God and how He works in the world.

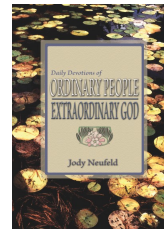

Weekly Devotions of Ordinary People – Extraordinary God (68 pages)

Perfect for small groups and in combination with When 3 to 8 Gather and I Want to Pray. 52 of Jody Neufeld's devotions with a date index.

Daily Devotions of Ordinary People – Extraordinary God (388 pages)

This book has been described by readers as ‘challenging and practical’ as the author tackles difficult questions and Scriptures head on. “I share what God has said to me in our time together. My journey with Him is ongoing and so are these devotions.” -- Jody Neufeld

“As a busy pastor, one of the biggest temptations is to neglect my personal time with God. Jody's heart for God has picked me up more days than I can count, with practical and fresh insight into the grace and truth of God. I truly recommend this book for anyone in need of balance, renewal and wisdom in their walk with Jesus!” Rev. Ted Wood, United Methodist pastor

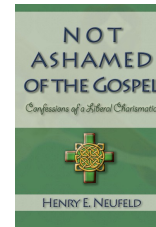

Directed Paths (104 pages)

Are you ready to trust God's leading in your life? Directed Paths will challenge your faith and your determination to serve God while giving you new strength and encouragement. The author is a registered nurse and along with her physician husband spent many years overseas as a missionary serving the Lord and humanity. Through it all she has been sustained by her faith in God. It was a life lived in the midst of providences. Each of her stories reflects a Biblical principle or promise. Mrs. Neufeld openly shares her prayers and God's answers.

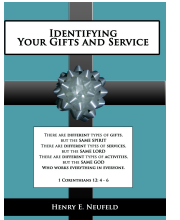

Not Ashamed of the Gospel: Confessions of a Liberal Charismatic (136 pages)

What is the good news? If the gospel that Jesus taught is so good, why are Christians so bad? How can Christians relate to people of other faiths or of no faith at all? Bible teacher Henry Neufeld wrestles with these issues in this book. This is not a book of theology. It is his personal testimony of what Jesus means in his life, and how one can be both a serious, committed Christian and a strong proponent of diversity and dialogue. Henry's understanding of Christianity is built around the incarnation. If God can cross the gap between the infinite and the finite to experience life with us, surely we can cross the gap between ourselves and our fellow human beings. “You are never more God-like than when you open your heart's door to another person. The more different they are, the more God-like that action is,” he says in describing how Christians should seek to build relationships.

Identifying Your Gifts and Service (84 pages)

This book provides a process for discovering and activating spiritual gifts in your congregation. It is not a typical scientific survey designed to discover what kind of personality you have, what you feel like doing, or even what your talents are. Instead, it is a process designed to help a church congregation discover God's gifts and leading in their lives.

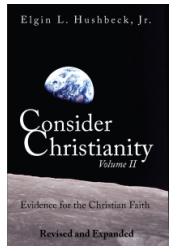

Identifying Your Gifts and Service – Small Group Edition (135 pages, forthcoming)

This workbook adds teaching and exercises for small groups. It forms a good follow-up for churches who have used the Identifying Your Gifts program in their congregation, but need to follow-up for new members.

Consider Christianity, Volume 1: Evidence for the Bible (206 pages) and Consider Christianity, Volume 2: Evidence for the Christian Faith (214 pages)

Elgin Hushbeck, Jr. discusses the evidence that convinces him that the Bible is reliable and that Christianity is a rational and relevant religion. This is the second, revised and expanded edition of Elgin's book, and has been split into two volumes due to size.

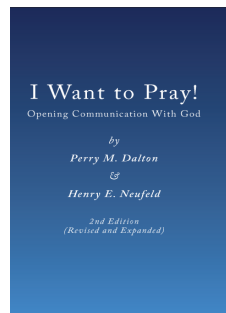

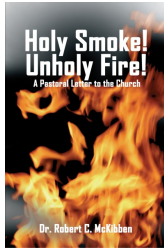

Christians and those interested in investigating the evidences that undergird Christianity will want to read and study these two volumes.

Holy Smoke! Unholy Fire!
Dr. Robert C. McKibben (184 pages)

Combining his experience as pastor, study, and a commitment to sound Biblical principles, Pastor Bob provides a checklist for churches to use in ministry and worship as they encounter the wonderful presence of the Holy Spirit.

I Want to Pray booklet
(84 pages)

This approach to prayer is experiential and participatory. It calls on you to get involved personally in prayer, to track your experiences and to let that experience show you the way. There are no formulas here, just a simple, conversational approach.

When 3 to 8 Gather (aprx. 120 pages, forthcoming))
This book began when two men of God, diverse in background, came together with a common purpose to encourage the Church to promote small groups for prayer and study. It is the prayer of Rev. Perry Dalton and Henry Neufeld that your church will grab hold of God's powerful tool of prayer and communion together which will build relationships with God.

CD Sets

Topical series of radio messages on The Bible Pacesetter Radio program presented by Henry Neufeld, President of Pacesetters Bible School. If you want to understand the basic theme of the book, this is for you. Short enough for listening in the car but long enough for study.
